Elective Affinities (German: Die Wahlverwandtschaften), also translated under the title Kindred by Choice, is the third novel by Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, published in 1809. The title is taken from a scientific term once used to describe the tendency of chemical species to combine with certain substances or species in preference to others.

Elective Affinities - Wikipedia

Goethe took the title Elective Affinities from the world of chemistry. The affinity between substances refers to the reason why certain compounds are formed rather than others, and why some separate to be remade differently. Above, Joseph Karl
